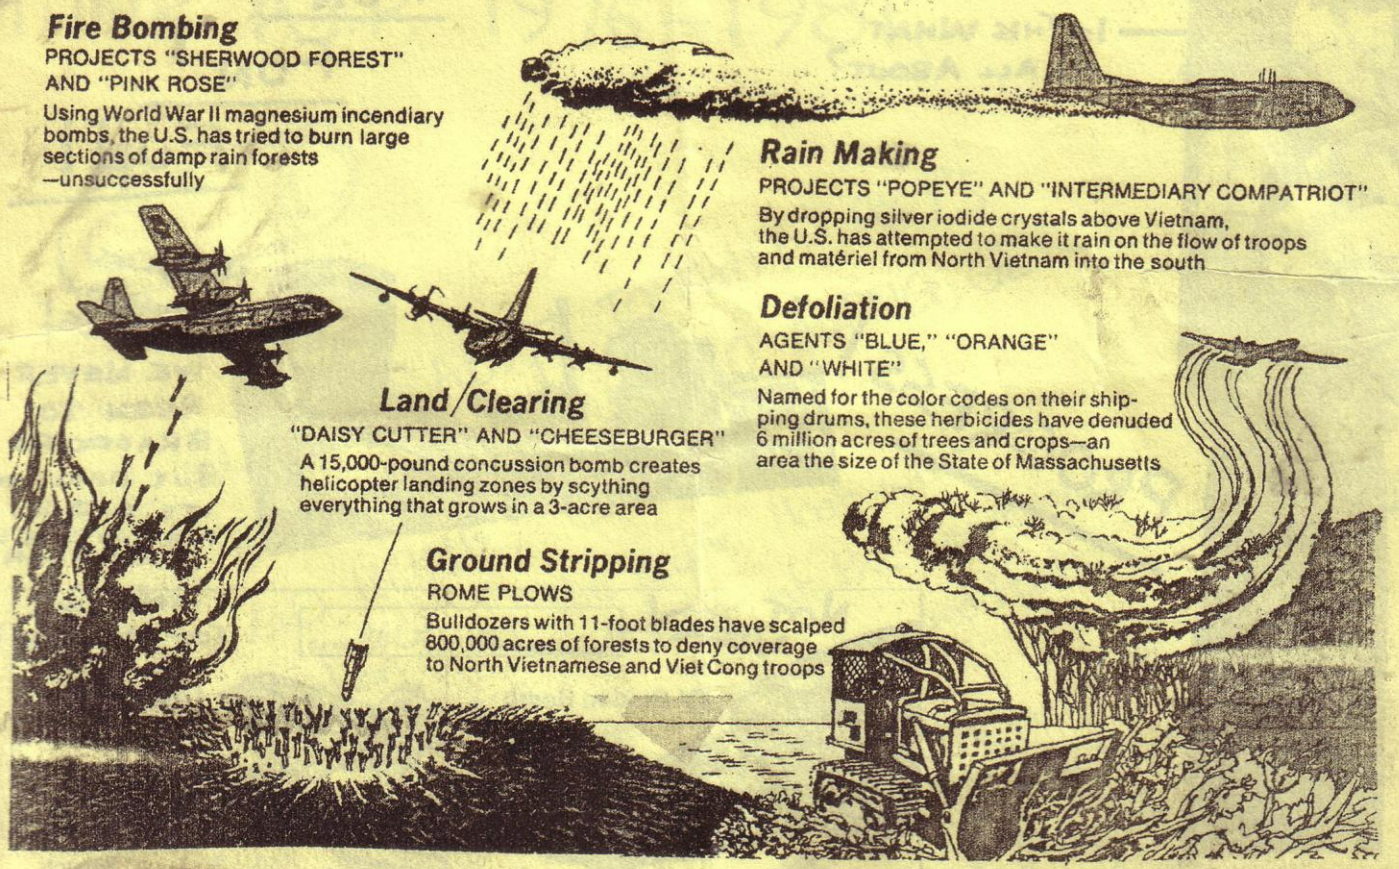
Weapons That Changed the Face of Vietnam



Fire Bombing
PROJECTS "SHERWOOD FOREST" AND "PINK ROSE"
Using World War II magnesium incendiary bombs, the U.S. has tried to burn large sections of damp rain forests —unsuccessfully
Rain Making
PROJECTS "POPEYE" AND "INTERMEDIARY COMPATRIOT"
By dropping silver iodide crystals above Vietnam, the U.S. has attempted to make it rain on the flow of troops and matériel from North Vietnam into the south
Defoliation
AGENTS "BLUE," "ORANGE" AND "WHITE"
Named for the color codes on their shipping drums, these herbicides have denuded 6 million acres of trees and crops—an area the size of the State of Massachusetts
Land Clearing
"DAISY CUTTER" AND "CHEESEBURGER"
A 15,000-pound concussion bomb creates helicopter landing zones by scything everything that grows in a 3-acre area
Ground Stripping
ROME PLOWS
Bulldozers with 11-foot blades have scalped 800,000 acres of forests to deny coverage to North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops

ANIHILATION OF A NATION OF A WORLD POPULATION.

HI THERE ANYBODY! Welcome to a new concept in fanzines, the first of it's kind. If you have come this far you're doing well! We decided that people lose interest in fanzines if they're full of writing, so ours has pictures funny, serious and bizarre. If you enjoy this you may like to start your own.

Hi guy its a medal Blood!

This magazine is a non-profit venture, We are trying, somehow, to keep the original ideals of 'Punk Rock' going even if musically it has burnt out. The contents may shock you, amuse you or disgust you. but we do not wish to offend people, merely make them aware of things they otherwise drown with drink. Enjoy it or hate it but do look at it and think about it, that would make us very happy. Thank You!

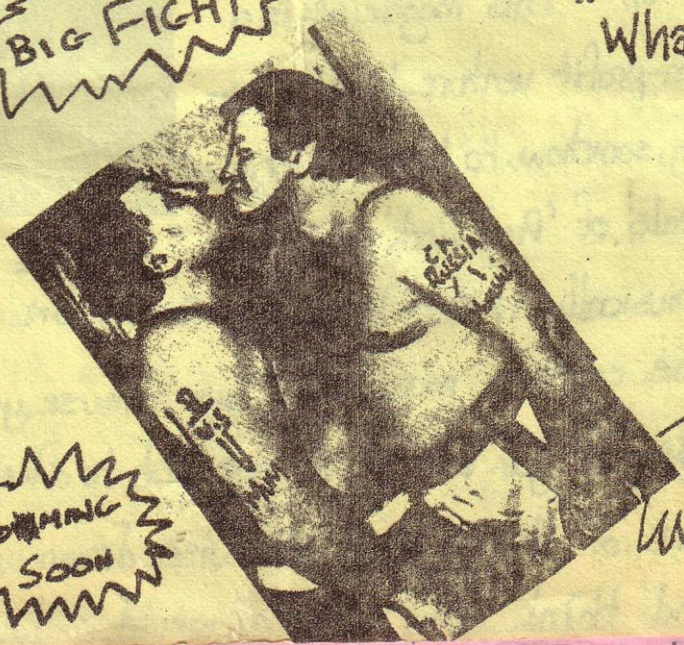
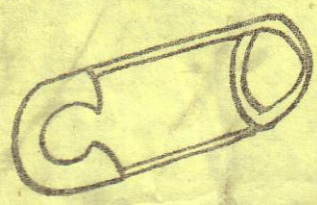
BIG FIGHT



"Whats happening"?

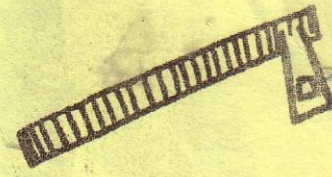
COMMING SOON

Punk R.I.P. 1976–1981.



"HAVE YOU HEARD ABOUT TONIGHT? AKY'S PARTY! WOW! LET'S ALL GO ALONG, GET PISSED, GO HOME! GREAT!"

The reaction from the people that went to Aky's party on Sat 24th Oct at the Communal Building Disco Bar was disgusting, and that's putting it mildly!



After the complaining of the 'so called punks' in Bradford, about there being nowhere for them to go that played music they wanted to hear, I would have thought this party would have been a welcome break from sitting around in Panache after paying £1.50 to get in, waiting to dance to a record they like, but no, this was not the case. The majority of these 'PUNKS' came in, bought a drink, and sat preening themselves and sniggering at the people with guts enough to dance. Is this what open-minded, care-free, I don't give a shit attitudes have come to? If these people would rather listen to Depeche Mode, Japan etc. then why did they all sign a petition to have a new wave disco at the Queens Hall?

I hope some of you read this and think!

Thank you!

"CLASH" MEGA GIG 1985?

What ever happend to....

Punk may be passé among Those Who Know, but it's still very much with us – and who turns a hair any more at the sight of multicoloured mopheads? Well, some employers do. So what if your job depends on looking neatly conventional, but off duty you like to look freaky as your friends? The answer comes in an aerosol. Nestle's have brought out Disco Dazzlers, spray-on colours in vivid shades of red, green, sky blue, which can be washed away with shampoo, and the more discreet Streaks 'N' Tips in gold, silver and blonde, if you have no wish to give your parents the heebie-jeebies, but want to highlight your hair. All cost £1·49. If you're nervous, the hairdresser Schumi will spray your hair for you. The biggest hair fashion news now is the David Bowie cut. And Schumi's latest innovations are the 'U'-View machine – you sit in front of a television screen and different hairstyles are superimposed around your face – and the Micro-Chip Hair Colouring Computer, which gives you over 6000 possibilities for changing your hair colour. Earrings by Linda Atkinson from a selection at Detail, 49 Endell Street, London WC1; scarf from Monsoon, 67 South Molton Street, London W1; hair, Robert at Schumi, 16 Pont Street, London SW1; photograph by Jane England; report by Meriel McCooey.

MADNESS - LEEDS [illegible]

Dull. Only outstanding [illegible] being 'The Prince' and 'Embarassment'. Certainly not worth building a special stage for them or hiring two 30 trailers full of equipment.

2 Tone. Belle Stars - Started off entertaining ended badly.

U.2. - Comsat Angels - LEEDS, TIFFANY'S

Well, really. Never mind I'm sure someone likes them.

Southern Death Cult - Edible Marquetry - 1 in 12

Edible Marquetry opened and I think, in most peoples opinions, closed again. They were desperately trying to be weird with clicks and buzzes and tapes playing. Not nice.

Southern Death Cult were not helped by bad sound - over laud vocals, and quiet drumming weak guitar and much too complicated bass playing. The singer had a good voice, the feed back was great the bass player was elite and they could do well!

BOW WOW WOW - Geargies Hall, Panache + Barnsley

The gig was great, it didnt happen. So then to Panache where the actual members kept a fairly low profile while the idiots who were 'ligging' with them took the piss out of just about everyone and everything while Barnsley waited patiently for people to insert the tongues up his anal passage and say "Please introduce me to BOW WOW WOW!"

Get rid of the idiots lads and lasses (Annabella and co.) and you could go far

G.N.D RALLY, LONDON, 24/10/81.

About 150,000/200,000 came to London to show their disgust and hatred of nuclear war. They came from all parts of the U.K and were united together to show the government that they do not want to have the world destroyed totally and forever, as it would be, by an unecessary and pointless nuclear holocaust.

Although I did not go on the actual march through London, everyone said it was cheerful and troublefree, with the added interest of having the Jam play 2 short sets from the back of a truck.

The rally itself in Hyde Park was almost an unbelievable sight all those people, of all sections of society, together in one place, united in one cause. A piece of history, and Bradford represented by Little Brother and Jooz, reading poetry from the stage, a couple of coachfulls of students and "liberals" and not a "punk" in sight. Where were you?

The speeches were like rally speeches always are, ranging from boring, through unintentionally hilarious, to brilliant and stirring, but of course there were too many and they were not helped by the intervention of annoying, ignorant so-called "anarchist" Crass-style punks, who even insulted the Nagasaki survivor who came from Japan to thank the marchers for caring. All in all, not an occasion I'd cared to have missed, if enough of us stand up & protest, they'll pay attention — J.D.

STOP PRESS

OOPS! Nearly forgot about the INSANE, FRICTION AGITATORS and ROT-IN FLESH who all played at the 1 in 12 a few weeks back. Friction Agitators were interesting, better with a new singer though. Rot-in Flesh were appalling and the INSANE were fast, raw, loud with inaudible words and a very unpunky looking guitarist considering that Kenny would only have hard-cores in his band at one time. If they slowed their songs down from 90 m.p.h. to about 60 they might attract people's interests. The Wall at Leeds
